

RICHARD I. KEGERREIS
ACDA 2008 EASTERN DIVISION CONVENTION
COLLEGIATE SCHOLARSHIPS

Dick Kegerreis (1928-2002) contributed enormously to ACDA through his service as editor of the Eastern Division Troubadour, as national coordinator of newsletter editors, and as editor of New York's state newsletter Choral Cues. To honor these contributions, as well as his life as a dedicated choral conductor and mentor, the Board of the Eastern Division in 2002 established the Richard I. Kegerreis ACDA Eastern Division Convention Collegiate Scholarships.

The goal of these scholarships is to support ACDA convention participation by college students. A minimum of five scholarships will be available for each Eastern Division convention, each in the amount of at least $150.

We encourage all college students to apply for the Kegerreis Collegiate Scholarships. A copy of the application form appears on the following pages of this issue of Troubadour as well as on our website: <http://acdaeast.org>. Applications must be postmarked no later than November 15, 2007.

Recipients of the Kegerreis Collegiate Scholarships will be notified by e-mail. The list of awardees will be printed in the convention book and will also appear in the April 2008 issue of Troubadour. All recipients will be expected to register for the convention according to normal procedures. They will then receive their scholarship checks at the registration desk of the Eastern Division convention in Hartford, February 14-16, 2008.
